GOP Pressure On Ike To Sign Farm Bill Rises

Senate Group Says Evidence Of Fraud, Corruption Found

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—A grass roots effort to convince President Eisenhower he should sign the farm bill appears likely to be launched at a Republican national campaign strategy conference opening here tomorrow.

Sen. Schoepel of Kansas, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said the question of whether it would be politically unwise for the President to veto the measure is "certain to come up" at panel discussions in the two-day conference.

Farm Discussion Seen

"Of course there will be discussion of the farm bill and of a possible presidential veto," Schoepel said. "I would not be surprised to see some grass root expressions against a veto, particularly from party workers representing the Midwest."

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), one of those who has been urging the President not to veto the legislation, said he is confident party members from the Midwest share his view that a veto would make it difficult for Republicans to win control of Congress this November. Carlson and Schoepel voted for the farm bill, which Eisenhower had called unworkable.

Ike To Address Meeting

The GOP conference, which Eisenhower will address briefly Tuesday night, was called by GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, Schoepel and Rep. Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Further Republican pressure on Eisenhower to sign the bill was coming from a delegation of Midwestern governors who expect to call on the President at the White House tomorrow.

Soviet Leaders May Bare Arms Plan In Britain

LONDON, April 15 (AP)—A Soviet commentator hinted today that Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Khrushchev may make a dramatic disarmament proposal during their visit to Britain.

There has been talk among British politicians, too, that the Soviet leaders may make a grand gesture of offering to lend Britain two or three billion dollars in gold. Such talk is not being taken too seriously though Russia is believed to have a lot of gold.

B & K On Their Way

The "Kremlin twins"—B&K—as they are known in every British household, were traveling from Moscow on their way to England today. They are due to disembark from their cruiser at Portsmouth Wednesday morning.

The Soviet press and radio has set the tone for their 10-day visit—trade and disarmament. Both issues have a strong appeal to the British people.

A Moscow radio commentator said in an English-language broadcast today: "We feel sure that the Soviet leaders' visit to Britain will... help to break the deadlock in the matter of disarmament." He did not elaborate.

Meeting Recess Likely

The U. N. five-power subcommittee on disarmament—the United States, Britain, Russia, France and Canada—is meeting in London. But its sessions may be postponed during the Soviet leaders' visit because Andrei Gromyko, the Russian representative on the committee, is attached to the official Bulganin-Khrushchev party.

Prime Minister Eden is intent on having a showdown with the Soviet leaders on several troubling international issues—notably Communist incursions into the Middle East, and Russian intentions on the unification of Germany.

TO HEAD NATO—Gen. Lauris Norstad (above), 49, now U. S. deputy commander for air, has been named to succeed Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, 57, as supreme commander of the North Atlantic Defense (NATO) forces. Gen. Gruenther is retiring because of ill health.

Kefauver Makes Last-Minute Bid For Jersey Vote

NEWARK, N.J., April 15 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver returned to New Jersey today in a last-ditch bid to snare some of the state's 36 Democratic National Convention votes.

New Jersey's primary election is Tuesday. Democratic voters will have a chance to say whether they want to send to the national convention the uncommitted slate headed by Gov. Robert Meyner or Kefauver's delegates.

Political observers see the contest as a test of Meyner's national and state strength.

Light GOP Vote Expected

On the Republican side, a light vote is expected, since the slate of 38 unpledged convention delegates favors President Eisenhower. Only four conservative Republicans are bucking the party organization in token opposition as delegate-at-large candidates.

Kefauver, after a five-day tour of the state last week, said he was encouraged by his support and estimated he might get eight to 10 delegate votes. Three delegates voted for him in the 1952 convention on the first ballot.

In his whirlwind return engagement today, he hit those areas where he got his most enthusiastic reception the first time around.

News Conference Held

In Atlantic City this morning Kefauver attended services at St. Paul's Methodist church and then held a news conference before starting his tour in a drizzle.

He said he felt that a good Democratic showing in New Jersey Tuesday might influence President Eisenhower to sign the farm bill.

He scheduled talks with south Jersey chicken farmers, quick speeches in rural Burlington County, near Trenton, and then was to jump to three large cities—Elizabeth, Newark and Jersey City.

Bird No Squealer

TULSA, Okla., April 15 (AP)—Detectives Jack Purdie and Paul Smith found whisky at a house they raided but no thanks to a talking myna bird.

While they searched the premises the bird repeatedly squawked, "Shut up."

"Say buddy, where do they keep the whisky?" cooed Purdie to the myna.

"Go to hell," the bird snapped back.

Hagerty Hints Action Today Is Possibility

Eisenhower Flies Back To Washington Facing Busy Week

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower flew back tonight from a week of golfing and work in Augusta, Ga., to face an unusually busy week and to make his big decision on the politically explosive farm bill.

The President's stepped-up schedule also includes formal launching of his re-election campaign and a major foreign policy address.

The President's plane, Columbine III, arrived at National Airport at 7:34 p.m. after a nearly two-hour flight from Augusta.

After a week of golf combined with work, the President arranged to confer at the White House tomorrow morning with Republican governors of three farm belt states, all of whom want him to sign the election year agriculture measure he dislikes.

Ike, Benson To Confer

After that session, Eisenhower will meet again with Secretary of Agriculture Benson, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, strongly indicated today that an announcement of the President's decision on signing or veto of the bill would come tomorrow shortly after the conference with Benson.

Hagerty also said there is "a very good chance" Eisenhower will follow up the announcement with a nationwide television-radio talk explaining his action on the bill. The press secretary said any such talk will be "early in the week," and he left open the possibility of it being arranged for tomorrow night.

Despite the imminence of announcement of Eisenhower's decision on the farm bill, Hagerty left the impression that as of today the President still had not made up his mind what action to take on the measure, already a hot political issue.

Political Speech Tuesday

The governors scheduled to talk to Eisenhower about the bill are Leo Hoegh of Iowa, Fred Hall of Kansas and Joe Foss of South Dakota. Hagerty said one or two other governors may be added to the list.

The President faces a busy week in Washington. In addition to the farm bill activities:

1. He will formally kick off his re-election campaign Tuesday evening with a speech to about 800 Republican leaders.

2. Earlier Tuesday he will toss out the first baseball at the season opener between the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees at Griffith Stadium.

3. Saturday evening he will make a major foreign policy address at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

GOP Chairman Blasts Truman

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall today called Harry Truman "one of the worst presidents in American history" and accused him of "sniping from the sidelines at one of the best."

In a statement to be distributed to GOP leaders convening here tomorrow for a party strategy conference, Hall said:

"Mr. Truman is a disgruntled, frustrated man who is jealous of President Eisenhower and will do everything to tear down his great record and his great popularity."

Hall said one segment of the Democratic party wants to "inject Trumanism into the 1956 campaign."

Truman has made half a dozen major speeches this year and has been increasingly active in recent weeks, Hall said. He added:

"His role in the coming campaign is clear—it's to drag it right down to the level he learned so well under Tom Pendergast in Kansas City."

Today's Chuckle

"I clean my diamonds with ammonia," said the new-rich woman who was trying to make an impression, "and I clean my rubies with Bordeaux wine."

By April 20, he'll have had 1,000 pints, 500 donated by students.

Accused Plane Saboteur Goes On Trial Today

DENVER, April 15 (AP)—The accused killer of 44 airline passengers and crewmen, John Gilbert Graham, 24, goes on trial for his life tomorrow.

Selection of a 12-member jury, plus one alternate, will begin at 11:30 a.m. (EST) before Dist. Judge Joseph M. McDonald. Some four to eight weeks later—court attaches estimate—the jury will decide the guilt or innocence of the man charged specifically with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55.

She was among 44 persons aboard a United Air Lines DC6B that blew up 11 minutes after taking off from the Denver Airport last Nov. 1. Federal officials said Graham signed a statement admitting he had planted a dynamite bomb in his mother's luggage.

Graham has repudiated that statement in news interviews. He claimed he signed it under an FBI threat that his wife, Gloria, mother of their two-year-old son, would be arrested. The FBI denied there was any threat.

Federal officials said Graham admitted in the statement that he expected to collect $37,500 in flight insurance taken out on her life.

Stevenson Rests Up In North Carolina

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., April 15 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, sunbathed from Florida campaigning, arrived in North Carolina's sandhills resort area today for a four-day rest mixed with some campaigning.

"I'm awfully glad to be here, and am looking forward to a good rest," the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination said.

About 25 persons were on hand to greet Stevenson when he arrived at Southern Pines by private plane early this afternoon. After a brief handshaking session, he drove to the winter home of his sister, Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, where he will stay until Wednesday.

Dr. White In Hong Kong

HONG KONG, April 15 (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, American heart specialist, arrived today for a two-day visit. He will address Hong Kong University medical students on heart diseases. His next stop is Manila, where he will attend medical conferences.

Mr. United States Has 51-Inch Chest

LOS ANGELES, April 15 (AP)—A Sacramento, Calif., gymnasium operator with a 51-inch chest is the new Mr. United States.

Bill Pearl, 25, won the title, emblematic of the male body beautiful, in a competition conducted last night. Clancy Ross of Oakland, Calif., was runner-up.

Paulette Nelson, 19, of Los Angeles, was chosen Miss USA. Her measurements: 36-24-37.

Pearl—5-feet-11 and 215 pounds—carries around the following assortment of muscles: 19-inch biceps, 26-inch thighs, 17½-inch calves. To go with that barrel chest he has a 32-inch waist.

Four Destroyers Sail For Mediterranean

NEWPORT, R.I., April 15 (AP)—Four Newport-based destroyers sailed at 8:20 a.m. today for the troubled Mediterranean area.

Some 100 dependents of the 1,000 crewmen were on hand to wave good-bye as the destroyers McNair, McGowan, Lewis Hancock and the Sullivan sailed down Newport Bay.

Earlier the sailors had attended divine service aboard the McNair and the McGowan.

The destroyers, comprising Division 202 of the Atlantic Fleet Destroyer Force, are under command of Cmdr. Hugh W. Howard of Olympia, Wash.

Woman Sets Out To Claim Daughter She Never Saw

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 15 (AP)—A 30-year-old San Diego woman leaves here tomorrow night by plane on the first leg of a journey to France to claim the daughter she has never seen.

She is Mrs. Melitta Real, whose daughter was born 12 years ago in a German prison camp hospital in France. Mrs. Real learned only last month that the child was alive.

"They—the Germans—told me my baby died the day after she was born," Mrs. Real said today. "I believed them, because I'd been so badly treated in the camp where I worked."

Mrs. Real moved with her parents from her native Yugoslavia to France when she was a child. When the Germans invaded the country in World War II, she was engaged to an Alsace-Lorraine youth. He was conscripted into the Ger-

Planes To Take Part In Military Show At Haifa

TEL AVIV, Israel April 15 (AP)—Israel will parade its military power on Independence Day tomorrow one day ahead of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's official visit.

The eighth anniversary of Israel's independence will be celebrated throughout the land. But the big show will be a military parade at the coastal city of Haifa.

An Israeli military source said Israel will unveil for the first time 12 swift, modern Mystere jet fighters bought from France. They will fly over Haifa.

Migs Sold To Egypt

The informant indicated the French jets would somewhat equalize the MIG15 jets the Soviets have sold to Egypt.

An Egyptian spokesman at Gaza reported an Israeli outpost directed machine gun fire on an Egyptian position near Beit Hanoun for 10 minutes today. He said Egyptians did not return the shots and there were no casualties.

The Egyptians also claimed two Israeli planes circled Gaza yesterday, and that other Israelis fired on another Egyptian outpost in the Gaza area yesterday.

Dynamiting Not Confirmed

Israeli spokesmen said a U.N. investigation did not confirm Lebanese reports that Israeli raiders dynamited a house in Lebanon Saturday, killing seven persons. The spokesman suggested the dynamiting was due to a family feud.

The wail of air raid sirens throughout Israel this morning ushered in national remembrance day in honor of those killed in the war with the Arab states eight years ago. Memorial lights were kindled at military cemeteries and flags flew at half staff.

Hammarskjold Continues Talks

BEIRUT, Lebanon, April 15 (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold labored all day today on the knotty angles of easing tension in the Middle East crisis.

He and his staff worked until 4 a.m. following a quick auto trip Saturday to both sides of the demarcation line along the Gaza Strip where most of the blood has been let in recent clashes between Egypt and Israel.

In conferences with Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, Canadian chief of the U. N. truce observation staff; Henry Labrousse, head of the U. N. Works and Relief Agency, and other aides, Hammarskjold reviewed the progress of his mission in its first week and prepared for the next steps.

On leaving Cairo yesterday, after talks with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and other leaders, Hammarskjold declared he had accomplished what he had set out to do there.

Both sides have agreed unconditionally to stop shooting except in self-defense. As a result tension has eased considerably and frontier incidents have virtually ceased since Thursday.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 15 (AP)—A tornado killed an estimated 19 persons and injured more than 200 today in smashing a cluster of rural communities on industrial Birmingham's western outskirts.

Roscoe Whitley, Red Cross chapter manager, made the casualty estimates.

At least 100 houses were reduced to splinters. Twice that many more were damaged.

Most of the dead were Negroes and most were unidentified some hours later. Alabama National Guardsmen, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army promptly set up rescue shelters for the homeless.

The roaring, whirling winds cut a wide path through an area thickly settled by coal miners and other industrial workers. They crushed the flimsy frame dwellings like eggshells.

A second tornado battered Huntsville, Ala., about 100 miles north of Birmingham, causing heavy damage but no loss of life or injuries.

More Tornadoes Threaten

Hardest hit was McDonald's Chapel, an unincorporated area just northwest of Birmingham.

As rescue workers began rescue operations, a thunderstorm swept the stricken community with pelting hail and 60 m.p.h. winds.

It was spanned by a second wave of turbulent weather which threatened central Alabama with possibility of more tornadoes, the Weather Bureau said.

A group of Negro houses on a hill was "just swept away," said Fanny May Patton, who was treated at Lloyd Noland Hospital in suburban Fairfield.

E. A. Lucas said the storm struck suddenly and with a tremendous roar.

"We barely had time to duck under the bed before the wind hit," he said.

The Oscar Salter home was destroyed while a 13-member family party was underway. No one was injured.

"The good Lord took care of us," said a survivor.

David Lucas, 8, son of the man, said, "It was all dark and smoky. It sounded like a train."

Hospitals Swamped

Shattered fragments of homes and furniture were strewn along the path of the storm as if crumpled and thrown aside by a giant hand.

The first wave of dead and injured was carried to Lloyd Noland Hospital, swamping its facilities. Emergency rooms and corridors were crowded with injured and relatives. All available nurses and doctors were called on duty to handle the overflow.

A company of the National Guard's 167th Infantry Regiment was ordered into the McDonald's Chapel area and set up two rescue centers.

The Red Cross gave these preliminary damage estimates in the Birmingham outskirts:

McDonald's Chapel—25 to 30 homes destroyed.

Sandusky—140 persons homeless, 45 houses destroyed.

New Georgia—11 homes destroyed, 20 damaged severely and 25 with minor damage.

Sayreton—20 homes destroyed, 30 damaged.

Algerian Liberation Front Defies France

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 15 (AP)—The powerful National Liberation Front declared today there can be no cease-fire in Algeria until France recognizes Algeria's independence.

France has insisted there can be no talk of greater self-rule until rebels lay down their arms. France is pouring more troops into this North African land to stamp out rebellion.

The "general staff" of the Liberation Front also thanked Arab states "who have concretely manifested their solidarity with martyred Algeria."

Five Persons Killed In Two-Car Collision

BEGGS, Okla., April 15 (AP)—Five persons were killed and three others critically injured today when two cars collided head-on three miles north of here on State Highway 75.

Four of the dead were from Tulsa, while the other fatality was Richard Leon Douglas, 21, Sapulpa, driver of one of the vehicles. Highway patrol troopers identified the other victims as Carl Littlejohn 33, driver, Hazel Martin, 38, Mildred Prince 32, and Marie Mayfield, 23.

Paper Union Will Dedicate New Building

Walter Reuther
May Be Guest

WESTERNPORT — The dedication ceremony of the Main Street building of Luke Local 676, United Paperworkers of America which they purchased from James A. Welsh, will be held Monday, May 21, on the Westernport parking lot adjoining the structure.

Walter Reuther, Pittsburgh, who is now in India, has been invited to attend the dedication which will begin at 2:30 p. m. Reuther is expected home in time to accept the invitation.

Congressman Robert H. Mollohan, Democratic candidate for governor of West Virginia has accepted an invitation to speak.

Invitations are also being issued to Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland and United States Senator J. Glenn Beall and others.

Open house will be held in the Union Hall, where displays will be provided by companies that sell equipment to the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Gene Dawson and Charles Butler are co-chairmen of arrangements for the event.

The union hall has been redecorated by four employees of the Luke mill.

Offices of Luke Local, UPA, and the Credit Union are on the first floor of the building. The Electrical Workers Local has an office on the second floor. Union meetings are held in the auditorium located in the rear of the first floor.

The union hopes to make the auditorium a community center. Dances for teen-agers and a dancing class are being held there now.

Health Center Election Will Follow Dinner

WESTERNPORT—A dinner will be held for the members of the Westernport and Luke Lions Club and other men of the community who donated services to moving and remodeling the Westernport Health Center now located on Washington Street, at the recreation room of Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church, today at 6 p. m. April 16.

The dinner will be served by the health committees of the Luke, Hammond Street and St. Peter's Schools and the lay committee of the health center.

Election of officers will follow the dinner. The nominating committee includes Mrs. Sally Mamon, Mrs. Portia May and Mrs. Thomas Whelan.

Present officers of the lay committee of the health center are John E. Grindle, chairman; Mrs. William Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Haywood, secretary.

Guests at the dinner will include Dr. Winter R. Frantz, Allegany county health officer, and Mrs. Frantz, the former Margaret Neumann, Mr. and Mrs. James Lindner and Mrs. Bessie Whitworth. Mrs. Frantz is the former health nurse and Mrs. Lindner is the present nurse for the Westernport area.

The health center was moved about a year ago from the building on Main Street which was razed, to the Dixon Building, its present location.

WCS Circle Has Election

FROSTBURG — Circle No. 1 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church was entertained by Mrs. Thomas Price, Miss Eva Hosken, and Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor at the home of Mrs. Price, 102 East Main Street last week.

New officers were elected with Mrs. Albert Cook re-elected as leader, Mrs. R. Bowen Hardesty, secretary and Mrs. Thomas Price, treasurer.

The officers and several other members of the circle plan to attend an officer's workshop at the Zone meeting, April 25, at Vale Summit Methodist Church.

Mrs. J. Carter Shroyock was speaker, using as her subject "Christian Discipleship Today."

Others attending were Mesdames H. Reford Aldridge, Howard Duckworth, James Elias, Edward Godsey, John Ives, James Lemmert, Ralph Neal, Thomas Payne, Charles Payne, Charles Stark and Misses Margaret Hosken, Annie Kiers, Neda Neal and Mrs. Offman.

The next meeting of the group will be held May 10 at the home of Mrs. Kate Myers, 45 Water Street with Mrs. James Morton and Mrs. Charles Stark as assistant hostesses.

Benefit Movie To Aid Red Cross

OAKLAND — A special showing of the film "Summer Time," starring Catherine Hepburn will be held at the Sand Flat Drive-In Theatre, owned by Harvey Speicher.

Benefits of the show will be given to the Garrett County Red Cross fund campaign. The showing will be held this evening, Mrs. Kermit Glatfelter is county chairman.

Rehearse Irish Minstrel

"Erin Go Bragh" the Irish minstrel sponsored by St. Michael's Catholic Church at Frostburg, will have its second performance today at 8 p. m. and it's final performance tomorrow at the same hour. Pictured above are the Barry Brothers Orchestra and three of the soloists who appear in the show. Seated at the piano is Mrs. Robert Barclay. Standing left to right are Leo Barry, trombone, Joseph Barry, trumpet, Paul Dunn, Pat Allen and James Hager soloists, Lawrence Barry, drums and DeSales Barry, clarinet. Rance Richardson is the director assisted by M. Virginia Richardson. Dr. W. O. McLane and Patrick O'Rourke and Delores Jenkins make up the minstrel committee with William Eberly as interlocutor. Proceeds will go to the special church fund.

Candy will be donated by members to Valley school the evening of the style show for a candy sale to be held in the lobby of the auditorium. Sixty concerns of the area have cooperated with the style show program for prizes to be given.

Bishop Confirms 147 At Church In Westernport

WESTERNPORT — Right Rev. Jerome D. Sebastian, bishop of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, administered the sacrament of confirmation to 123 children and 19 adults at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Thursday evening.

Bishop Sebastian was assisted in the service by Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Cumberland, who was master of ceremonies; Rev. Frances Montgomery, administrator of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg; and Rev. Kenneth Michael Carney, pastor of St. Peter's Oakland, sub-deacon; Rev. Charles W. Bogan, St. Mary's Church, Lonaconing, chaplain; Rev. Joseph O'Toole, Salisbury, Pa., Catholic Church, chaplain; Rev. Linus E. Robinson, pastor of St. Peter's Church here and assistant pastors Rev. Charles Quinn and Rev. George Pugh also assisted with the service.

Preceding the confirmation services Rev. Mr. Robinson entertained for Bishop Sebastian and other visitors.

John M. Kelly Is Transferred

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — John M. Kelly, of 55 West Harrison Street, who has been employed as a supervisor at the Liberty Powder Company, Mount Braddock, near Uniontown, Pa., is being transferred to the Columbia Powder Company in Tacoma, Wash.

He visited his home here over the weekend and will leave today by auto for the West Coast. The powder companies are subsidiaries of Olin Industries Incorporated.

A graduate of St. Peter's High School, Westernport, and Potomac State College, Keyser, he also completed his studies at the University of West Virginia in Morgantown where he graduated in 1954.

He is a son of William T. Kelly and the late Mrs. May (Bell) Kelly. He had been employed at the Pennsylvania plant for the past 10 months.

League Members Given Awards

Among presentations made at the ninth annual banquet of the Fearer Memorial Church Basketball League of Frostburg was held at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church. Among awards presented were those pictured above. At the left, Francis X. Carrington is shown presenting to Charles Sigler of Klondike Methodist Church team an award for setting the league record in foul shooting. He scored on over 60 per cent of his attempts. At the right, Kenneth Babcock, a member of the board is presenting a trophy for second place in the league playoffs to Ralph Murphy, captain of the Congregational team. The league playoff was won by St. Michael's Church team, and since this is the third win for that team, the Charles M. Hill trophy now becomes a permanent possession of the team.

Mrs. VanScoy Will Manage Shrine Club

KEYSER—Mrs. A. K. VanScoy, who recently resigned as librarian at the Keyser-Mineral county Public Library, has accepted the management of the Shrine Club on U. S. Route 50, a few miles east of Keyser, and took over her new duties the first of this month. She is the wife of A. K. Van Scoy, of the physics department at Potomac State College, and both are active in Masonic and Shrine affairs, and in the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Van Scoy has taken over the full time position in looking after the activities of both the Shrine Restaurant and catering to big affairs being scheduled for dancing, dinners and other activities in which the ball room can be used. Booking for the spring and summer seasons are being made and a number of affairs have been booked.

After the first of May, the Van Scoys will live in the apartment at the Shrine Club, and Mr. Van Scoy will continue at the College Physics department.

Confirmation Class Will Meet Tonight At St. Peter's Church

LONACONING — The Adult Confirmation Class will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Choir rehearsal will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and the Every Member Canvass meeting will start Tuesday at 8:45 p. m. At the Family Service and Sermon on Sunday at 9:30 a. m., crucifer was Philip E. Clark, server, Robert A. Brodie; torches, James Z. Bosley and John E. Cook. Miss Elizabeth L. Atkinson was in charge of Nursery; Andrew M. Smith Sr., usher.

Grace, Prince Preside Over Gala

MONTE CARLO, April 15 (AP)—Actress Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier III tonight celebrated their coming wedding amid jeweled and bejeweled trappings recalling French royalty's plush days.

The strikingly gowned princess-to-be and her bemedaled Prince presided over a regal gala. The waiters wore white-hosed uniforms, orchestra members were in wigs, and a ballet troupe paid a fairylike tribute to the wedding. The gala was televised for the tourist-packed principality. Only about 400 guests could actually attend the affair in the swank Sporting Club. The club has been redecorated in the last two months with white columns and furnishings that would have pleased Louis XIV.

The event was a highlight of the prewedding ceremonies that will keep the Prince and Grace on the go. They will be married at civil and religious ceremonies Wednesday and Thursday and leave Friday aboard the Prince's yacht for a Mediterranean honeymoon.

Earlier today, the prince's spiritual adviser, Father Francis Tucker, lashed out at gossipers. He declared the Rainer-Kelly marriage "is going to last. It will never break up."

He startled a congregation in St. Charles church which included guests here for the wedding with an admonition to look out for their own marital bliss.

Father Tucker, who has been Rainier's personal chaplain for nearly six years, is credited by many with bringing the Prince and the American actress together.

Bank Bandits Nabbed, $34,000 Recovered

JACKSON, Miss., April 15 (AP)—FBI agents said they arrested the last of three bandits today and recovered all of the $34,990 in a bank robbery less than 24 hours old.

Credit for helping solve the crimes went to a resident of Florida, Miss., site of the holdup.

Two young men surrendered early this morning. Jackson police yesterday arrested the third, a student of Hinds County Junior College.

In New Orleans, M. P. Chiles, special agent in charge of the FBI office, said charges of bank robbery were filed against Rex Edward Alexander, 20; Gerald Owen Smith, 21, and the student, Charles Anthony Jones, 19, all of Jackson.

The first Pullman car was built by George Pullman in 1865 at a cost of $20,000.

Eight Killed On State Highways

(By The Associated Press)

At least eight persons, including a hit-and-run victim and a 15-year-old bicycle rider, were killed in Maryland highway accidents during the weekend.

In another accident, a sports car driver was killed when his car crashed on the Marlboro motor raceway during a practice driving session.

The hit-and-run victim was Luther N. Terry, 31, of Easton. He was struck Saturday night on Maryland 370, about 200 yards south of the Miles River Bridge in Talbot County. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Louis Welty, county deputy medical examiner.

Eugene Holtz, 15, Negro, of Benedict, Charles County, was fatally injured early Sunday on Maryland 231, about two miles west of the Patuxent River Bridge.

State Police said the youth and his bicycle were dragged about 160 feet after being struck by a car driven by George J. Hoffman, 32, of Hughesville. Officers quoted Hoffman that he was passing another car when he struck the youth. Hoffman was charged with manslaughter.

In another Sunday morning accident, 23-year-old Gladys Mae Shown of near Queenstown, Queen Annes County, was killed in a truck-car crash near Centreville. Dr. John J. Murphy, 35-year-old Washington dentist, was killed in the raceway accident.

Runaway Girl, 16, Returns To Home

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The 16-year-old daughter of Frank M. Ewing, former deputy assistant secretary of defense, was back home with her parents today, seven weeks after she ran away to Alabama.

The girl, Grace Marit Ewing, returned early today to the family home in suburban Kenwood, Md. Her father had flown to meet her yesterday in Selma, Ala., where police found her working in a grocery store.

Members of the family were in apparent seclusion today and declined to comment further on the case, which involved a nationwide hunt for the girl.

Grace told newsmen in Selma that she left home "to earn my own living." She added that, "I've found out now that I can."

"I'm just great," she told her father when they met at a Selma airport.

Ewing said his daughter had left a note before she disappeared Feb. 26, telling her parents she "wanted to be independent."

Apple Price-Fixing Charges Dismissed By FTC

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today issued a final ruling dismissing price-fixing charges against apple processors and growers in the Appalachian area.

Denying an appeal by FTC attorneys, the commission held that its investigators had not proved that the growers and packers had arranged a system of "formula pricing" of raw apples and had agreed to divert apples from one buyer to another to maintain agreed prices.

Involved were Appalachian

Apple Service Inc., of Martinsburg, W. Va., representing about 1,700 growers in Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland and these five processors:

C. H. Musselman Co., Biglerville, Pa.; National Fruit Produce Co., Winchester, Va.; Knouse Food Coop. Inc., Peach Glen, Pa.; Bowman Apple Products Co. Inc., Mt. Jackson, Va., and Shenandoah Valley Apple Cider and Vinegar Corp., Winchester, Va.

Acquiring a sense of security is an important part of growing up

When someone's counting on you... you can count on life insurance

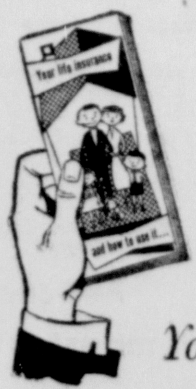

There's no easy way to measure a parent's responsibilities. You can't see them . . . except perhaps for the faith that shows in your youngster's eyes. You can't feel them . . . except for the trusting squeeze of tiny hands. But you know they're there . . . today, tomorrow and for years to come.

That's why you own life insurance. You know you can rely on the written guarantees in your policies to help protect your family's future. Every policy is, in fact, a contract that sets forth in detail the benefits the life insurance company promises to deliver.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

It's wise to review your life insurance policies regularly—to make sure that the provisions you selected earlier still apply to your family's present needs. Your own life insurance agent will be glad to help you do this. It is part of the service he offers you.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. J.

Yours free!

Keeping Up With Hollywood
by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 (INS) — Heartening news that Eddie Cantor is well enough to make a motion picture for Gregory Ratoff in New York this summer. Happy as a lark, Eddie tells me he's just signed a contract with Ratoff, who will produce and direct "The Fifth Season," which ran on Broadway for two years.
It's about the garment business, and has a great role for Eddie.
"I played 12 holes of golf Friday," said Eddie, "and my doctor says I've never been in better shape. The only thing he warned me about was to stay out of trouble with George Jessel." Eddie laughed.

An amusing thing happened when Doris Day, who plays an airline hostess in "Julie," was told to whistle.
"Just whistle anything," said Director Andrew Stone, while they were filming the picture at the Oakland airport, "to show your tenseness."

Doris started whistling and no one noticed until after the scene was taken that she whistled "The High And The Mighty," the song from John Wayne's picture!

I've often wondered why Sonja Henie works so hard and knocks herself out when she could take it easier.
But I am a fine one to talk about hard work. I work sometimes as if I were wound up — and I love it. But, I did ask Sonja why she was taking a troupe of 150 people to Caracas and doing so much strenuous skating when she has such success.

"What would I do if I didn't skate?" she said. "All my life I have been devoted to my career."
I asked her about James McKinley Bryant, who was her escort when we were in Turkey.
"No man in my life," she said, "at this point." Sonja always put career above romance.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: I doubt if it's any surprise to Kim Novak that Mack Krim will join her in Europe.

The sight of the week was Portland Mason and her eight-year-old escort Michael Hardwicke at "The Man In The Gray Flannel Suit" premiere. After the first reel, Mike dozed off into a sound snooze, but not Porty, who had seen the picture three times but remained wide awake to the end!

That commuter Margaret Etinger is back in town long enough for the selection of Miss Rheingold of 1957. Among the judges are Irene Dunne, Ida Lupino, Joan Fontaine and Bob Cummings.
If Zsa Zsa Gabor and Hal Hayes have no intentions of marrying, they're putting on a good job of pretending. They were at the Mo'cambo again, looking very romantic.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

All eyes are on the bride all through the important ceremonies of the wedding.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Beauty And The Bride

Storybook weddings and honeymoon trips for the month of June are not too far off to plan right now. All brides are beautiful—that is a rule to which there is no exception.

Fabrics have never been more lovely; organdy; lace; point d'esprit; embroidered organdy; Mousseline de soie; bombazine; a fascinating early Victorian revival Chantilly-style lace; paper-thin taffeta; and always—perennial white satin. Besides graceful long hasque bodice lines, demure semi-fitted Princess lines, some of the new gowns are designed with the high fashion Empire and Directoire lines.

Whatever style the gown, it takes more than that to make you a vision of loveliness. A graceful walk as you go down the aisle on your father's arm, pretty posture, a pretty and becoming coiffure and a lovely complexion are all important items to be included in your pre-nuptial planning.

If you need a permanent, arrange to have it at least three or four weeks before the wedding. Insist on a very soft, natural wave. Don't change your hair style or length — this is no time to experiment. Wear it the way you know it is most becoming. There is still time to improve your posture. Walk around the house with a book on your head. Practice a graceful walk. As much as possible eliminate all sweets, rich, fatty foods — without offending your hosts at pre-nuptial parties. This will help your complexion and figure. Rest at every opportunity. Rest is one of the most important beauty aids you require to assure you that you will look your absolute best the most important day in your life.

Leave the last week entirely free for only the essentials — wedding rehearsal, the bridal party, and relaxing for beauty-of-the-bride's sake.

Tomorrow — Don't spoil your chances.

"Optimistic" Picture On Teacher Supply

When the National Education Association shows signs of optimism about the teacher shortage, that's news. Says the NEA: "There are prospects for a total of 96,000 new teachers graduating from college in June, a 9.9 per cent increase over the June 1955 total. Even more encouraging are figures showing a corresponding increase in every one of the high school teaching fields."

Even looking at the new higher enrollments the NEA sees a "fairly optimistic picture." The 1956 crop of teachers will be a big help in relieving overcrowding and half-day schedules. Meanwhile the proportion of college graduates among all teachers is rising steadily; 68 per cent today as compared with 46 per cent in 1949.

Especially is the general educational level of elementary teachers rising. This year less than 4 per cent of those in service for the past seven years have had less than two years of college. And more college students are going deep into science and mathematics.

But—and here's the warning—the deficit of qualified teachers is still serious enough to call for every effort in recruiting, every effort in holding new graduates to their purpose to teach. Of last year's grads, one in five prepared for elementary teaching, and one in three trained for high school teaching have never showed up in a classroom.

Industry has kept on cutting deeply into the ranks of the new graduates — particularly men trained in the sciences. After starting to teach, many science and math teachers quit to take jobs in industry.

Nevertheless, prospects of supply and quality of teachers is more encouraging than at any time since the end of World War II.

Burgess Writes A Column

Guy Burgess of the Burgess-Maclean partnership of Russian spies in Great Britain and the United States wrote a piece for The London Sunday Express, last February, which is of interest at the present moment because of implications in relation to the forthcoming Khrushchev-Bulganin visit to Great Britain.

Burgess clarifies Russian policy, as he understands it, after having said that he and Maclean have had every opportunity to meet Russians "of different kinds and at all levels, except the highest official level." Then he says:

"It has been said that we tried to hurt Anglo-American friendship in the statement that we made (when they first showed themselves to foreign correspondents). This assumption is as false as would be any illusion on our part that we could do anything much to hurt this friendship even if we wanted to. Only Mr. Dulles could do that."

This is very interesting because obviously John Foster Dulles is now being portrayed as the enemy of Great Britain as part of the Communist party line in all parts of the world. If he does not go along with British policy with regard to the Near East, it is to be remembered that Sir Anthony Eden has not gone along with American policy with regard to the Far East. As a matter of fact, if there is any disturbance of Anglo-American relations, it is because Great Britain recognized Red China too soon and having done that departed altogether from both American and British concepts of right by insisting that Red China could show its way into the United Nations. It has been said, but not officially, that Great Britain recognized Red China after having been promised that the United States would quickly follow. If such a claim, which I heard in London a year ago is correct the British were taken in.

Burgess says that he wrote a speech for his chief in the Foreign Office which "ran roughly as follows": "The Chinese People's government is a government of Chinese people by Chinese people and for Chinese people. That is why we have recognized it and that is why it is surprising that the United States has not got around to doing so."

In a word, this man, a Russian agent, who skipped out of his own country while under investigation and who now is in Moscow in the employ of the Russian Foreign Office, wrote a speech which actually describes British policy and which denounces ("it is surprising") American policy. He does not say when he wrote that speech but Burgess was employed in the British Foreign Office during the years 1944 to 1951 and therefore he could not have been without knowledge of the Korean War which took so many American lives. Could it have been Bevin or Morrison for whom the speech was written?

He met in Washington American officials who agreed with him about Red China. He does not say who they were. He attributes the American failure to recognize Red China to the China Lobby, of which Alfred Kohlberg says he is the sole proprietor, although I am willing to claim a participation, and the right wing of the Republican party, which in the United States Senate is the leadership of that party. He apparently does not believe that the voters have any interest in the matter.

Burgess denies that the present Russian government is imperialist or expansionist, although it has increased its hegemony over the human race from 130,000,000 in 1939 to about 800,000,000 today. The only reason for the Truman "Containment Policy" and for NATO is to limit Soviet expansion.

The article was copyrighted by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc., and The London Sunday Express. Nevertheless it did not attract too much attention, perhaps because few identified its author as the spy, probably figuring that it was somebody else whose ideas were being given currency. The effort of Soviet Russia to have Red China recognized by the United States and the United Nations knows no abatement and apparently the purpose of this article was to influence both British and American public opinion. Perhaps that is the job which Burgess and Maclean hold in Moscow.

It is astonishing that no one among the foreign correspondents and diplomats in Moscow recognized and identified Burgess and Maclean during their stay there.

"Run Under Me Again"

Administration Officials Disbelieve Intelligence

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON — It is strange how the highest administration officials stubbornly disbelieve what their own intelligence experts tell them. Take, for example, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's recent testimony before the House Appropriations Committee:

"You know, we cannot get very far ahead of them (the Soviets), because we talk so much in this country and write so many articles and publish so many pictures and magazine articles that they are always bound to be able to do it. Most of their weapons, of course, really came out of the Western world."

Evidence Is Contrary

No national myth dies harder than the notion that the Soviets are technically backward, capable only of slavishly copying what the West has already produced. But it is really very odd that Secretary Wilson, after more than three years in office, should still believe in this comfortable myth. For throughout those three years, Wilson has been literally deluged with evidence pointing in precisely the opposite direction.

There is, moreover, nothing particularly mysterious about the great bulk of this evidence — it does not come from beautiful blonde spies. Most of it comes, instead, from such items as a long, profusely illustrated book called "Aviation Gas Turbine Engines," by G. S. Skubachevski. Mr. Skubachevski's formidable work was published in Moscow last year, and it is freely available in technical bookshops in the Soviet Union. When it arrived in Washington recently, it caused quite a fluttering in the intelligence dovetails.

It contained for one thing, numerous cutaway drawings of something called a "split compressor engine." The split compressor system is used in the most advanced American jet engine design, and all diagrams and performance data are top secret. Yet here was a mere textbook, distributed to mere student engineers in the Soviet Union, containing numerous detailed diagrams of the split compressor engine.

New To America

The notion that "they get it all from spies," which is a companion myth to the "backward Russians" myth, does not hold up in this case either. The text of the book contains not only a highly sophisticated discussion of the split compressor engine, but a number of jet engineering techniques new to American experts. Soviet spies could not have stolen these ideas from us, simply because we didn't have them.

Reliable information on Soviet weapons progress from such overt, non-cloak-and-dagger sources as Mr. Skubachevski's book, is not as impossibly difficult to come by as it is often cracked up to be. Last year, for example, the magazine Aviation Week published excellent photographs of the mass flights over Moscow of the new Soviet heavy bomber, the Bison — the same plane which Mr. Wilson had previously opined was a fake, or a mere hand-made prototype.

The publication of these photographs caused horror in the Pen-

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

If Stevenson tries to rattle cufflinks with Estes Kefauver he's up salt branch with short oars.

Five years ago the late Silliman Evans predicted Estes would handshake himself into the White House. That's because Estes had been the intercollegiate discus champion.

Estes has a wrist like a pump-handle and a grip like a swinging gorilla. Give him a cocktail shaker at Albany and he will have the Hudson running martinis to the sea.

There hasn't been such a puller-inner since the Bowery merchants went ethical. Estes just keeps shaking your hand until your engine turns over.

We concede that Estes ran amok in those 1952 blind handshakes in those New Hampshire blizzards. He didn't get many votes but he did get an awful lot of mittens. For the right hand only.

Now he's achieved the finesse of the oldtime politicians. He's geared the handshake to the affirmative. He keeps pumping until you nod.

Sen. Kefauver Once Helped To Elect Gov. Meyner Who Now Opposes Him

By Drew Pearson

Kefauver—delegates which are unpledged, but which would probably go to Stevenson if controlled by Meyner.

Likewise, John Kenny, boss of the old Hague machine in Jersey City — a city where the tall Tennessee unearthed plenty of crime — will be out to protect his machine. He is dead opposed to Kefauver.

Kefauver has had terrific crowds, one of the biggest right in Kenny's own Jersey City bailiwick. In Newark, the crowds were so enthusiastic that Mayor Leo Carlin, who had planned to stay neutral, came up to congratulate Kefauver. Whether the enthusiasm of the crowds can be translated into delegate strength will test out whether New Jersey local leaders can be any stronger than the local leaders of Minnesota.

NOTE — Estes got into the New Jersey campaign late, had to get his own delegates into the race late, says he'll be satisfied to carry 10 out of 36 delegates.

Deepening Crisis

It is now possible to report more details on the closed-door conference between Secretary of State Dulles and bipartisan congressional leaders over the threatening war clouds in the Near East.

"The President," Dulles said, "has requested me to brief you gentlemen on the seriousness of the situation."

He then proceeded to sketch a picture of deepening crisis.

One thing which disturbed him was the cabled reports from U. S. embassies in Cairo and Tel Aviv that both Premier Nasser of Egypt and President Ben Gurion of Israel had become increasingly hostile. Previously they had been receptive to suggestions for peace, but not recently.

Another disturbing part of Mr. Dulles' report was that Russians are organizing Moslem troops behind the Iron Curtain apparently to send so-called "volunteers" in to help the Arabs, just as Chinese "volunteers" swarmed all over Korea. Dulles said the State Department is watching this very closely.

No Congressional O. K.

The secretary of state seemed loath to reveal just what plans the Eisenhower administration had, if any, to deal with the worsening crisis. He stated flatly, however, that the President is prepared to intervene in the Near East, and made it clear that he wouldn't necessarily ask Congress in advance. He would ask for congressional approval, Dulles said, if he had time.

"But," added the secretary of state, "if a serious crisis develops suddenly and he hasn't time to seek congressional authorization, he will, of course, take any steps that are necessary under his own powers to stop an all-out war. The President has the power under the Constitution to intervene." Dulles declared, "After all, there are American citizens in that area who must be protected."

Dulles injected a faintly optimistic note at this point by saying he was sure war would not come to the Near East in the immediate future.

"We are still confident it can be averted by diplomatic means and are doing all in our power along that line," he said.

At one point when the secretary of state was asked if he didn't think war already has come to the Near East, he replied:

"No, not an all-out shooting war as yet." Then he added, "we will have to wait and see."

Dulles also talked at length about using the United Nations to keep the peace, but feared that if the Arabs were the aggressors, then the combined Soviet-Arab bloc would be able to prevent the U.N. from intervening.

He said either he or the President would call another meeting of congressional leaders soon to keep them advised.

Washington Pipeline

Missouri's Sen. Stu Symington is running away from the presidential nomination just as hard as Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver is running after it. Not that Symington wouldn't like to be president. But his advisers remember how Adlai Stevenson got the 1952 nomination by insisting he didn't want it. Several Democratic leaders have urged Symington to toss his hat in the ring. He has refused to give them the slightest encouragement. Latest example: New Mexico's Gov. John Simms wanted only a small sign that Symington might accept the nomination. When Symington refused, Simms announced for Stevenson.

Public Libraries

By Roger Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Very few people appreciate the great value of books and our God-given privilege of being able to read. The most valuable asset of your community is its public library — not its swimming pool, ball park, or golf course.

Value Of Books

One of the first things in which I invested my savings was in books. I personally now have in my two homes a total of about 10,000 volumes. About 700 of these are reference books, including several different sets of encyclopedias. As Thomas Dreier, board chairman of the St. Petersburg, Fla., Public Library, so well says, "Public libraries can feed one's brains as supermarkets feed the stomach; actually, they should be advertised just as food stores are advertised." This is a good thought.

You often think you would like to listen to some famous man, yet you can go to your public library and bring home without cost all the important things which that man has ever said or thought. It is almost as if your local banker said to you — "Come and get without interest all the money you will use properly. All I ask is that you return this money to the bank in a reasonable time." Yet a better offer is being made to you by your local librarian.

Becoming Lost Art

Notwithstanding the tremendous help your public library can be to you people, consider these five facts:

1. Five out of every ten people in your city read no book the past month.
2. Nine out of ten depend primarily upon newspapers, magazines, radio, and TV.
3. Only 25 per cent read books regularly — and these are your most successful people.
4. 35 per cent never used your public library.
5. 10 per cent of your people probably cannot read intelligently.

Every week I meet many successful people — manufacturers, merchants, machinists, builders, teachers, doctors, and preachers. My stock question to them is: "How do you recharge your mental batteries?" They almost unanimously reply: "By reading constructive books — especially biographies." I also ask the public librarian to please notify me whenever she sees a book which might help me in my business.

What Libraries Can Do

Let me again quote my friend Tom Dreier as to how public libraries books will help us:

1. Library books have been carefully selected by professional readers. They are classified so as to help us quickly get the books which we like and want.
2. To prepare us for making a living and progressing in our vocation, or to help in that process.
3. To prepare us for mature and complete living — personal and family, social and civic — in today's world, and to help develop the natural, cultural, and spiritual values which benefit both the individual and society.
4. To increase our understanding of sciences and humanities and our appreciation of our cultural heritage; also our understanding of others. This last greatly helps in all walks of life.

Actually, the librarian's job is the job of a teacher of adults.

5. To help us interest our children in reading good books. Every public library has a specialist who knows how to interest children.

"Do-It-Yourself" Education

As work-hours decrease, our children will have more time to read good books. Those young people who get their education themselves from good books, I forecast, will be the leaders when they grow up. Let us use our extra hours in helping our children to help their future by good reading now.

I even forecast that the time is coming when men and women will get college degrees by studying by themselves in public libraries. Therefore, when you are building yourself some furniture and other things, take some time to build yourself a college degree.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Big league pitchers rarely know how to hit, although occasionally a Don Newcombe or Red Ruffing prove exceptions to the rule. Most pitchers take their feeble futile three swipes or looks at the ball — and sit down.

One of the worst batters in baseball history was the Yankees' celebrated relief artist, Wilcey Moore. In fact, Babe Ruth once bet him $300 to $100 he wouldn't make three hits in an entire season. Wilcey fooled everybody—the Babe made two of all—by pounding out five singles that year for an average of about .088. Ruth, of course, had to fork over the $300.

Moore added insult to injury by buying two mules with the money. He named one "Babe." The other "Ruth."

Three Bi-State Conference Games Carded Here Today

Black Knights Battle LaSalle For Top Berth

Play At Penn Field, Bruce At Fort Hill, Campers Host Beall

A battle for first place in the Bi-State Conference is in store for baseball fans today when Valley High School's Black Knights clash with LaSalle High School's Explorers at Penn Avenue Field at 4 o'clock.

Valley and LaSalle now are deadlocked for first place in the nine-school circuit with 2-0 records. LaSalle opened with a 6-1 victory over Bruce and nosed out Fort Hill's Sentinels on Friday by the score of 2-1. Valley crushed Allegheny High, 12-4, and won over Hyndman in an 11-9 slugfest on Friday.

Coach George Geatz will select his starting pitcher from Bill Roberts, Frank Ritter and Tommy Wegman, lefthanders, and Matt Mullaney, righthander. Coach John Meyers of Valley is expected to start either Grover Fazenbaker or Ronald "Butch" Young.

Three Contests Here

There also will be Bi-State action today at Fort Hill and Campbello. Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Sentinels (1-1) will host Bruce High's Bulldogs (1-1) at 3:30 and Coach Gene Shaw's Allegheny Campers (1-1) will battle it out with Beall High (0-1) on the Sedgwick street field at 4 o'clock.

Mt. Savage High School's Indians (1-1) will tackle the Plintstone High Aggies (0-1) in Mt. Savage at 4 o'clock.

Hyndman High School is idle today but visits Beall High's Mountaineers on Wednesday.

Potomac Wins Third

Potomac State College notched its third straight win Saturday by downing Shepherd College's Rams at Shepherdstown by the score of 17-11. An eleven-run rally in the sixth inning put the game on ice for Coach John Maiden's aggregation.

William "Junie" Perry was the game's hitting star with a pair of three-run homers and six runs batted in. Perry pitched the first six frames for the Catamounts and got credit for the win. Isherwood was the loser.

Two-hit pitching by Toby Colaw enabled Southern High to eke out a 2-1 decision over Berkeley Springs High School Indians in a P. V. C. game staged at Oakland. Fred Colaw's single scored Paul Brohead with the run that broke a 1-1 deadlock in the 7th and final frame. Colaw fanned eight while Ronnie Clatterbuck, Berkeley ace, yielded five hits and struck out seven. The win gave Coach C. A. Hogue's Highlanders a 2-1 record in the conference.

Shoemaker Rides Swaps, Terrang To New Records

MIAMI, Fla., April 15 (AP)—The California pair of Rex Ellsworth and Milt Tennet gave notice today they will make a strong bid for a second straight Kentucky Derby victory next month.

A Gulfstream Park crowd of 20,345 was still celebrating Swaps' record-breaking performance in the Broward Handicap yesterday when Owner Ellsworth and Trainer Tennet scored again.

This time it was their promising 3-year-old, Terrang, who flashed across the finish line half an hour after the Swaps race, also in track record time.

Swaps, who won the Kentucky Derby last May and was making his Florida debut in the Broward, set a world's record of 1:39 3/5 for the mile and 70 yards despite his handicap of 130 pounds. The old record of 1:40 was set by South Dakota at River Downs in 1945.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker kept Swaps under a hold most of the way and was looking over his shoulder as they swept toward the finish line. He won by two and a quarter lengths.

Shoemaker also guided Terrang over the same distance in 1:40 2-5, clipping a fifth of a second off the old Gulfstream Park record set by Atomic Power on March 29, 1947.

Cards Reign As Champs Of Don't Count League

Majors Start Play For Keeps Tuesday

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Spring training is over and the eager St. Louis Cardinals rule as champions of the "don't count" league. Even the Pittsburgh Pirates inhale the heady first division air.

But a day of reckoning is fast approaching. They start playing baseball for keeps Tuesday. The oddsmakers have installed the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, last season's World Series opponents, as even money favorites to repeat.

Brooklyn will trot out a brand new second baseman in Charlie Neal, up from Montreal, when the Dodgers raise their first world championship pennant at Ebbets Field before their game with Philadelphia.

Neal at Second Base

With the exception of Neal, Manager Walter Alton is sticking with the men who made him (in 1955), ignoring newcomer Ransom Jackson to start the rejuvenated Jackie Robinson at third base.

Don Newcombe gets the expected call as starting pitcher on the strength of his 20-5 record (to say nothing of his .359 batting average). It will be Newk's first opener since 1950 as this job normally is reserved for Carl Erskine, who will do the honors Thursday in the secondary opener at Jersey City. Robin Roberts, an opening day fixture since 1950, will start off the Phillies for the seventh successive season. The Newcombe-Roberts pairing, a frequent attraction during the regular season, should provide the best battle of the day with 25,000 fans expected.

The Yankees won't be home to start their season, bowing in before President Eisenhower at Washington where Manager Casey Stengel has assigned Don Larsen to face the Nats' Camilo Pascual. Injuries have bothered the Yanks in the final weeks of spring training and another epidemic hobbled Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard and Yogi Berra in the final exhibition. However, all three are expected to be ready to face Washington.

Lumpe To Start

Stengel finally provided the answer to the nine-man shortstop derby by listing rookie Jerry Lumpe, a recruit from Birmingham, as his starter.

The usual opening day fanfare and Washington's "new faces" lineup will attract a sellout crowd of 28,578 to Griffith Stadium. Manager Chuck Dressen will field a brand new outfield of Dick Tuttlebach and Whitey Herzog, ex-Yankees, and Karl Olson, ex-Red Sox. He also will have a rookie catcher in Lou Berberet, another former Yank.

Detroit counts on the largest opening day crowd, about 45,000, to watch the Tigers tangle with the Kansas City Athletics, who will start lefthander Alex Kellner, pitching his fourth opener, against Frank Lary, a sophomore of promise.

Orioles At Boston

Hope is high in Boston that this might be the year for the youthful Red Sox with rookies Don Buddin at short and Frank Malzone at third, a talented oldtimer like Mickey Vernon on first, plus outfielder Ted Williams for a full season. Frank Sullivan will try to get the Sox off on the right foot before 20,000 opposing Baltimore's Bill Wight. The Orioles' most important addition is outfielder Tito Francona.

A crowd of 33,000 is due in Chicago to watch the White Sox open against the Cleveland Indians with

Three Players Repeat On NBA All-Star Team

Pettit Heads Vote, Stokes On 2nd Team

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, the league-leading scorer, headed the National Basketball Assn.'s 1956 All-Star team, announced today.

The team, chosen by a vote of sports writers and sportscasters throughout the circuit, also included two members of the championship Philadelphia Warriors, Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston, and a duo of Boston Celtics, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman.

Johnston, Cousy and Pettit are repeaters from last year's first team. Sharman moves up from the 1955 second All-Star squad. Pettit received the greatest number of votes.

The second team featured the appearance of Maurice Stokes of Rochester, the third first year man in the NBA's ten-year history to be so honored. Stokes also was named "rookie of the year."

Others named to the second team were Adolph Schayes, Syracuse, Clyde Lovellette and Slater Martin of Minneapolis, and Jack George of Philadelphia.

Players voted to the first All-Star team will receive $200 each. The second team members each get $100. Stokes, from Little St. Francis (Pa.) College, receives $200 as the league's "rookie of the year."

Pirates Trim Detroit, 11-9

Thomas Belts Homer, "Red" Munger Victor

PITTSBURGH, April 15 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Detroit Tigers sprayed 28 hits around Forbes Field today, with the National League Pirates finally claiming their second victory in two days over the Tigers, 11-9.

The Pirates had 7 hits one of them a three-run home run by leftfielder Frank Thomas with two men aboard, in a six-run third inning that put the Pirates ahead to stay.

But it was Puerto Rican Roberto Clemente, Pirate right-fielder, who stole the thunder on this cloudy afternoon before only 3,600 fans. Four Tiger hurlers could retire Clemente only once in five trips and he scored four runs on four singles.

George (Red) Munger, 37-year-old righthander bidding for a return to the big time, got the victory. He pitched three innings and allowed no runs and only one single.

The Tigers nearly pulled the game out in the late innings' scoring twice in the seventh and four times in the eighth.

Cubs Make Sweep, Beat Chisox, 9-2

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—The Cubs completed a sweep of the two-game Chicago city series by defeating the White Sox 9-2 before 12,016 at Wrigley Field today in mid-40 degree temperature.

The Cubs' success followed a 10-8 triumph yesterday, to give them a final spring record of 14-16 compared to the White Sox' 12-18 mark in exhibition games.

Sam Jones pitched the route for the winning National Leaguers, yielding three hits as the veteran right hander fanned five and walked as many. The Cubs pounded a foursome of White Sox pitchers for 11 hits. Bob Keegan, who followed starter Connie Johnson, drew the loss.

Outfielder Walt Moryn paced the Cubs with three hits, one of them his eighth spring homer. Chicago (A) 100 001 000—2 3 4

Noses Out Wampler On 2nd Extra Hole

By KEN ALTYA

GREENSBORO, N.C., April 15 (AP)—Sam Snead's putter, which had cost him so much ground earlier, delivered a 20-foot birdie putt on the second extra hole today to give him a sudden death playoff victory over Fred Wampler and his sixth Greensboro Open Golf Tournament victory since 1938.

They had tied over the regulation 72 holes at 279, five under par. Snead wins $2,200.

Given a life when Wampler missed a six-footer to win on the 72nd hole, Snead came back to the course to match Wampler's par four on the first extra hole and get his winning birdie to pick up the $2,200 winner's end of the purse.

Wampler, 1950 national collegiate champion whose home is in Indianapolis, wanted desperately to win. He hasn't won a big one since Los Angeles in January of 1954.

He had equalled the record for the Starmount Forest Course with his seven under par 64 in the third round to come from nine shots back of Snead into a one-stroke lead over the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who will be 44 next month.

Snead had a 70 today to go along with previous rounds of 66-69-74. Wampler had a 71 after a 74-70-64 start.

Doug Ford Is Third

Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., finished third with 70 for 281, good for $1,170. Jim Turnesa of Spring Valley, N.Y., with a 68 finish, had 283 for fourth money $980.

Mike Fethick of Mahopac had the day's hotter putter as he also tied the competitive record for the 6,723-yard Starmount Forest Club with a 32-32-64 that saw him sink a couple of 30-footers. It brought him into a tie for fifth at 284 with Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Frank Stranahan of Toledo.

30,770 See A's Beat St. Louis

Lou Kretlow Hurls 3-Hitter, Wins 6-1

KANSAS CITY, April 15 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics belted four St. Louis pitchers for 10 hits and Lou Kretlow turned in a sterling 3-hit performance today as the A's won their final exhibition game of the season 6-1.

A total of 30,770 fans braved chill, windy weather to watch the A's make a clean sweep of the two-game series. The A's also won yesterday 6-3.

The Athletics took charge from the outset, scoring four of their runs in the first inning. Harry (Suitcase) Simpson belted a homer over the right field fence in the eighth, with one aboard, for good measure.

Pale Imitation

My chief objection to the $64,000 Challenge is that it's plain bloody dull. On the opening show a good deal of commotion was kicked up because Bill Fox, the emcee, neglected to note a wrong answer; notably that Brabantio rather than Polonius was the father of Desdemona in "Othello."

Well, it's nice of the press (to say nothing of thousands of listeners) to stand by and correct these errors that creep into quiz shows. But I keep thinking there are other more important things for both press and listeners. Does anyone really care who Desdemona's father was, anyhow? He's one of the most minor of Shakespeare's characters. Brabantio, Polonius? So what?

Gradually we are being led into areas of information that are all very well for the individual who cares to cultivate them but are not especially edifying to the mass audience. For instance, Mrs. Ethel Park Richardson, a 72-year-old constant from California, was stumped on "The Big Surprise" on too. On "Name That Tune," for a question about the trail which honey-mooners one time and the meaning of the name. The correct answer was "Guasito," meaning "mountains where deer are plenty."

Well, she didn't know it and I didn't know it and now that I do the same show, the band played Dixie" for a girl from the South, onechile bit her lip and then announced: "That's Yankee Doodle. To get back to the '$64,000 challenge,' these contestants are the people who have outgrown their usefulness on the '$64,000 Question' and are being retired for another $10,000. After that, I devoutly hope they'll be discarded permanently."

400 Expected For District Elks Meeting

The April meeting of the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Elks Association will be held in the home of Cumberland Elks Lodge 63 Saturday and Sunday.

Approximately 300 to 400 visitors will be here from 17 other member lodges in the association.

The schedule for Saturday begins with registration at 1 p. m.
followed by a "musical matinee"
at 2 p. m. A one-hour cocktail party will follow at 4 p. m. From 6 to 8 p. m. there will be a general get-together in the grill. At 8 p. m. association trustees will meet in the Rainbow Ranch Room.

A dance will begin at 9:30 p. m.
with a floor show at the 11:15 p. m.
intermission.

Sunday morning the visitors will attend church services of their choice and at 2 p. m. the association will meet in the ball room.

At 3 p. m. there will be a musical treat in the Rainbow Ranch Room, and at 5 p. m. there will be a chicken fry, western style. The meeting will close at 6 p. m.

Harry S. Tracey, member of the Cumberland Elks, is chairman of the 1956 regional committee.

Club Meets Tonight

The monthly meeting of the Cumberland Cave Club will be held at 8 p. m. today in the LaSalle
High School Library. Brother G.
Nicholas will present a talk on "The Chemistry of Cave Formation."

Old Fashioned Bargain Day Parade Planned

1½ Mile Spectacle Scheduled April 28

A mammoth parade will be staged here Saturday, April 28, as a feature of Cumberland's Old Fashioned Bargain Days.

The mile and one-half parade will assemble in the area of the National Guard Armory on South Centre Street at 6 p. m. and march off at 7 p. m.

The line of march will be over level streets and past a reviewing stand to be set up at City Hall, according to Thomas F. Conlon, parade chairman.

Floats taking part in the parade must be designed and decorated locally and must have some historical significance. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded the three top floats.

Invitations to participate in the spectacle are being extended to area organizations, with requests that replies be sent in by Saturday.

The parade will be only one of the special events scheduled in connection with special sale planned by the Retail Merchants Association of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

They will include special historical exhibits and a street dance.

City Will Ask Social Security Referendum

172 Employees May Be Covered By Plan

An order will be introduced by Mayor Roy W. Eves during Monday's council session which will pave the way for a Social Security referendum among city employees.

The action will include requests that the State Employees' Retirement System conduct and set a date for the vote.

Eligible to vote in the referendum, which must be held at least 90 days after the request, are 155 city employees. Only those who are now members of the state retirement plan can vote on the proposal.

If the vote is favorable, it will bring under Social Security all permanent employees of the city, including the Mayor and Council, with the exception of police and firemen.

Members of these groups are at present excluded by law from Social Security coverage.

This would mean that the coverage may be provided for 172 of the 284 permanent employees of the city.

City Hall sources predict a favorable vote on the referendum, based on the fact that all but two eligible workers have already signed up for deductions, which will be used retroactively in case of a favorable vote.

The City also set aside $8,000 in the current budget to match Social Security contributions of city workers.

Health Sanitarians To Attend Meeting

Four members of the Sanitation section of the Allegany County Health Department will attend an area meeting in Hagerstown Thursday.

Attending the meeting devoted to accident prevention and farm sewage will be J. B. Dowling, Harvey Shockley, W. R. E. King and W. J. Patterson.

Hout Is Awarded Frostburg Contract

The William Hout Construction Company of Cumberland has been awarded the contract for improvements at Lowndes Hall of Frostburg State Teachers College.

The local firm submitted a bid of $23,427 to the Maryland Department of Public Improvements.

Completes Course

Second Lt. Roger D. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wilson, 1909 Bedford Street, has graduated from the all weather interceptor school at Perrin Air Force Base, Texas. He will be assigned to the 56th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. Lt. Wilson attended Pennsylvania State University. He entered the military service June 1, 1954.

Join Fraternities

Two Cumberlanders are among the 150 students who have been accepted into fraternities at the University of Maryland. Raymond Spear joined Alpha Epsilon Pi and Marshall Yankelevitz was taken into Sigma Nu.

Board Will Meet

The Board of Directors of the Associated Charities will meet Thursday at 4 p. m. in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

AFL Meeting Set

The Building and Construction Trades Council will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Potomac River Crossing

Crews of the Britten Engineering and Construction Company, Birdsboro, Pa., are ditching for one of four crossings of the Potomac River of the C & A Gas Company line to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch. The bulldozer, resting on the W. Va., side of the river beyond the Municipal Airport, is anchoring and pulling the power shovel whose tracks are aimed at the site of the $34,000,000 glass plant. The six and three-quarter mile pipe line project began late last month. Work is nearing completion on the water line being laid for the city to the plant.

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at Old Furnace Church of the Brethren by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Peters. The sermonettes are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

And in the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water. John 7:37-38.

Christ The Water Of Life

By REV. H. W. PETERS

Water is essential for the existence of life. As there can be no physical life without water, neither can there be spiritual life without Christ, the water of life.

The feast of which John spoke here was the feast of the Tabernacle—a feast instituted to commemorate the sojourn of Israel in the wilderness. It lasted seven days during which time the people lived in small tabernacles made of the branches of trees. Feast means an appointed time, a time of rejoicing.

On the eighth day they left their tabernacles and came into the temple bringing water from the pool of Solomon, of which they drank and poured around the altar in the court of the temple. While doing this they sang with great joy, saying, "With joy shall we draw water from the wells of salvation." While they were singing, Jesus, knowing their greatest need (The water of Life, appeared in the midst of the temple and cried out in the language of the text, "If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink. Let him who is not Christ's great friend of salvation."

First, it was an invitation to the thirsty souls of men. There is an in-born thirst within all men. For something that man cannot give. Soul thirst for living water. And that living water is Christ, whether they accept it or not.

David said, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after God."

This living water is for any and every man, even to the downcast woman at Jacob's well. Jesus said, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst. Second, All men thirst. Often they do not know what it is they want. But they know they lack something. What they need is the Water of Life, the grace of God, cleansing from sin. They need to drink from the wells of salvation. "There is a fountain filled with blood, drawn from Immanuel's veins, and sinners, plunged beneath that flood, lose all their guilty stains."

Mason Cow Wins March Area Butterfat Honors

March butterfat champion for the Potomac Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association is No. 51-B4064, a grade Holstein product of artificial insemination owned by John T. Mason of Cresaptown, according to Wheeler W. Arnold and Harry E. Miller, supervisors. Mason's top producer had 85 pounds of butterfat in 2,240 pounds of March milk. The Cresaptown dairyman also had the sixth, seventh and ninth ranking cows among the 14 on the supervisors' honor roll. There were 14 on the list because of a five-way tie for tenth place in butterfat production. Two other dairymen had two cows apiece on the honor roll. E. R. Streett and R. A. Oster of Bedford Valley, Pa., had the second and third best butterfat producers. Brinker Brothers of Springfield, W. Va., had one of their cows in a two-way tie for seventh place and another involved in the five-way tie for tenth place. During March 818 cows were on test. Their average production was 726 pounds of milk, 30 pounds of butterfat and 4.14 per cent butterfat. Other farmers with a single cow on the honor roll are Ivan C. Wilson, Midland; Lloyd Nave, Bedford Valley, Pa.; Chelsie A. Liller, Cresaptown; Shumaker Brothers, Rawlings; Ernest A. Light, Pinto, and Carl Hovsare, Bedford Valley. Thirteen of the 14 honor producers are Holsteins and only one a Guernsey.

Frostburg Gets 1957 Md. AAUW Convention

Mrs. Milton Granet Elected Treasurer

Mrs. Milton S. Granet, LaVale, was elected treasurer of the Maryland division of the American Association of University Women at the group's state convention held in Annapolis. The association also accepted the invitation of its Frostburg-Georges Creek branch to hold its 1957 state conclave in Frostburg.

The association ended its 1956 meeting at Annapolis Saturday afternoon, after a convention in which over 200 delegates passed several resolutions for improving Maryland's educational programs and electing three state officers.

Besides Mrs. Granet, the convention elected Miss Mary Byer of the Washington County branch AAUW as second vice president and Mrs. Henry Wright of Annapolis as recording secretary.

Resolutions adopted called for: "A building program that will adequately meet the needs of our children; an adequate program of teacher recruitment; improvement of the professional, economic and social status of the teaching profession; establishment of educational television stations; establishment of additional junior colleges under local control; appointment of qualified and well-informed boards of education; and "restriction of horror elements in reading, radio, television and the movies."

The Western Maryland Chiropractic Association is planning to observe "Correct Posture Week" from May 1 to May 7. A program of public interest was discussed at a meeting of the association at the office of Dr. James G. Steele, 205 Main Street, Frostburg.

Members participating and attending the meeting include Dr. Harold S. Mallin, Dr. Boyd E. Mertens, Dr. Robert E. Shrout, Dr. Steele, Dr. Orville G. Swartley and Dr. R. Neil Williams.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the squad room of the Public Safety Building.

Jaycees Prepare For Home Show

Members of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce were busy Saturday and yesterday afternoon in the buildings adjacent to the Winow Street A&P market which will be used April 25 through April 28 for the third annual Cumberland Home Show.

An article in Saturday's News incorrectly listed the show dates as August 25 through August 28.

Democratic Rivals For U.S. Senate Nomination Announce New Support

Perlman States He's For Tydings

BALTIMORE, April 15 (AP)—Philip B. Perlman, former U.S. solicitor general, urged Marylanders to support Millard Tydings today, declaring he'd still be in the Senate "if it were not for the disgraceful campaign of deceit and misrepresentations conducted against him in 1950."

Tydings, who seeks the Democratic Senate nomination, was defeated in 1950 by the incumbent Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. A congressional committee cited the use of a fake photograph showing Tydings and an American Communist leader together as part of a "despicable backstreet" campaign.

Perlman said the "misrepresentations" were concocted "largely by imported hirelings from Chicago and Washington."

He added, "It was the first time in my knowledge that the voters of Maryland permitted themselves to be influenced by outsiders, especially those with personal and selfish motives, seeking power and prestige through prejudice, falsification and other illegal and unworthy means."

The Perlman statement continued:

"The primaries of May 7th afford the voters of Maryland the opportunity to redeem the state from the consequences of the frauds practiced upon them in 1950, and the opportunity to put Millard Tydings back in the United States Senate to resume his able, forthright and honest record as a personality of national importance."

Tydings was a senator for 24 years before his defeat by Butler.

Weinberg Gives Mahoney Boost

BALTIMORE, April 15 (AP)—Leonard Weinberg, prominent Baltimore lawyer, said today he has decided to support George P. Mahoney because he is "the only Democrat who has entered the primary who can be elected (to the Senate) in November."

Weinberg said he found this to be the opinion of "most Democrats" even though many of them "ostensibly" favor former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings.

"The members of the little self-appointed clique who have been controlling the party and choosing themselves as candidates, have been running the party too long, and have run it into the ground."

The voters of Maryland are tired of seeing the same men, estimable though they may be, trotted out as perennial candidates for office by this little self-interested group.

"Their inept leadership and purely selfish desire for power have resulted in the election of one Republican after another to public office in Maryland, where there has been, for years, no Republican organization to speak of."

"It was not Mr. Butler (the incumbent Republican senator) who defeated Mr. Tydings in 1950. It was Mr. Tydings' own lack of contact with his constituents in this State (most of whom never saw him, except when he was running for office), plus his record in Congress, that accomplished his defeat," Weinberg said.

Railway Says Vandalism Is Getting Bad

Culprits "Shoot Up" Control System Box

Western Maryland Railway police officials, disturbed by the increasing cases of vandalism on railroad property, are planning a campaign to curb these acts and to arrest transgressors on company property.

Latest of the incidents which are "showing a decided increase at this time," according to Bernard Beaky, officer in charge of agents on the Cumberland-Elkins division, is the damaging of a relay box of the central traffic control system several days ago. The vandalism of the control system took place on the line about three miles west of Frostburg.

Railroad officials said someone armed with a shotgun blasted two "pumpkin ball" slugs into a relay box which contained several relay control switches valued by the company at about $200 apiece. Damage to this type of control box would "throw everything red," said Beaky causing trains throughout the line on the Connellsville sub-division to halt improperly.

Endangered also is equipment used to automatically switch trains on various tracks and the possibility of a derailment is uppermost in the minds of the investigators.

It is "getting worse" the railroad officer states with hunters, fishermen and others using the railroad right-of-way to travel to and from their destinations. Equipment very often falls prey to the "playful" shot of hunters and youngsters with BB guns, .22 caliber rifles, shotguns and slingshots.

"They just can't resist the temptation to 'shoot up' signal lights and control equipment," said Beaky.

Other instances include the communications line-cutting in the vicinity of Oldtown several weeks ago in which a government-con-

Home Economics Teachers Plan Dinner Tuesday

To Hear Specialist At Shrine Club

Miss H. Patricia Murphy, a representative of the Product Information Section of the Du Pont Company's Textile Fibers Department, will be the featured speaker at the second annual dinner meeting sponsored by the Allegany County home economics teachers at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics in the Allegany County public schools, said that the county adult teachers of clothing and the Garrett County public school home economics teachers also have been invited. Other special guests will be Miss Evelyn Miller, state supervisor of home economics, and Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

A similar program was presented by the home economics teachers about this time last year.

Miss Murphy will present a discussion of the properties, the care and the sewing of fabrics made of man-made fibers. Her work with the Du Pont Company is with such textile fibers as rayon, acetate, nylon, "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

A resident of Media, Pa., Miss Murphy attended Syracuse University and was graduated from the University of Maryland.

The committee on arrangements includes Miss Helen E. McFerran, chairman; Mrs. Carolyn R. Arbogast, Miss Marie A. Richmond and Mrs. Jane L. Fulk, all home economics teachers at Allegany High School.

Income Tax Deadline Is Midnight Tonight

Today is the last to file state and federal income tax returns. Because the normal deadline fell on Sunday this year, tax returns postmarked on or before midnight tonight will be under the deadline and not considered delinquent.

The last couple of days of last week saw an upswing in business at the office of Internal Revenue Service in the post office building as well as the local office of the State Comptroller, 7 Market Street. Demand for blank forms was heavy, as many people prepared to do their own returns over the weekend.

The state office on Market Street will be open today until 4 p. m. and the federal income tax office in the post office will close at 5 p. m.

Admitted To Hospital

Mrs. L. E. Van Sant, 215 Greene Street, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Saturday night as an emergency patient. Her condition was reported fair yesterday.

County Roads Expenditures Total $70,066

Chapman Submits Three-Month Totals

Allegany County Road Department expenses during the first quarter of 1956 totaled $70,066.95, according to a report submitted by J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, to the County Board of Commissioners.

The $70,066.95 included $48,692.11 for road labor, $11,827.68 for equipment, $7,609.47 for materials, $664.40 for sick pay, $651.41 miscellaneous, $8506.40 for vacation pay and $115.48 for tools.

Chapman also figured the average expenses per month and per working day. By the month, they included $3,941.88 for equipment; $38.49 for tools, $217.14 miscellaneous, $2,535.49 for materials, $16.1230.70 for labor, $221.47 for sick pay and $168.80 for vacation pay.

The per day figures are $181.95 for equipment, 36 cents for tools, $10.02 miscellaneous, $117.07 for materials, $749.11 for labor, $10.22 for sick pay and $7.79 for vacation pay.

Chapman also prepared a report itemizing the $11,827.68 spent between January 1 and March 31 for equipment. These figures:

Gasoline, $2,344.64 for three months, $781.55 per month and $36.07 per day; fuel, $157.90, $52.63 per month and $2.43 per day; oil and grease, $274.59, $91.53 per month and $4.22 per day; tires, $539.16, $179.05 per month and $8.29 per day; batteries, $89.92, $29.97 per month and $1.38 per day; insurance, $4,234.17, $1,411.39 per month and $65.14 per day; parts, $1,999.93, $666.64 per month and $30.77 per day labor, $2,187.37, $729.12 per month and $33.65 per day.

Five firms were paid more than $1,000 by the County Roads Department in the three month period. They included $4,184.17 to the Beall Insurance Company, $2,989.12 to the Cumberland Cement Company, $1,992.26 to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, $1,953.02 to the Hampshire Builders Supply and $1,378.90 to the John C. Louis Company.

City Collects 89.7 Per Cent Of Its Levy

Spending Is Below Par On March 31

The City of Cumberland went into its final quarter on April 1 with 89.7 per cent of its all-time high levy collected and with spending running a few points below par.

A report by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, on the condition of the levy as of March 31 showed that $1,432,118.99 of the $1,595,630 levy had been collected.

Still to be collected is $166,822.86, and $3,311.85 has been collected from accounts in excess of expectations.

Collected on the $1,128,500 tax levy was $1,089,359.58, or 96.5 per cent of the levy, with $39,140.42 still to come in.

The various city departments had spent, during the first nine months, $938,951.21, or 69.4 per cent of the $1,350,296.81 appropriated for city operations.

The figure lasted for only one day, however, since the percentage rose to 71 per cent on April 1 after $18,921.50 was paid as the last quarter's allotment toward the cost of city employees' pensions.

Two accounts were overdrawn—City Planning and Zoning, $41, and the Public Buildings Repairs fund, $386.12.

Most major departments appeared to be operating in the black, or with slight surpluses, traditionally used to purchase supplies and equipment before the end of the fiscal year.

Census Bureau Takes Survey In County

Facts on employment and unemployment will be collected from a number of Allegany County families this week in the Current Population Survey, according to Edgar L. Bryan, of the Census Bureau's district office at Pittsburgh, which will participate in the survey.

Information collected locally will be combined with facts obtained in other parts of the country to provide national statistics. Information for the survey will be collected locally by Mrs. Olive E. Claar, of Cumberland.

Shop Crafts Honor Mayor Eves

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who retired recently from B & O service, receives congratulations and a brief case presented by Ralph H. Breighner, (right) local committeeman of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, as Angelo Muscatell, president of the B & O Shop Federation No. 7 looks on. Muscatell was toastmaster at a testimonial luncheon held Saturday at the Bowmans Addition Fire Hall by B & O Bolt and Forge and Reclamation Plant shop crafts. Heads of the unions paid tribute to Mayor Eves' interest in fellow workers and his contribution to the labor record of the shops. They also cited that the Bolt and Forge had 81 workers when Mayor Eves took over the unit in 1930, and that employment stood at 526 the day he retired.
